ers of Socialist and Communist tendencies have caused special apprehension at the Vatican. France's influence among Socialists throughout Europe is considerable. Recognizing the weight of his work even with sovietists, Maxim Gorky has just addressed a letter of appeal, in which he begs France to intervene in favor of the revolutionary Socialists now under trial in Moscow in the following terms:

"The action against the Russian revolutionary Socialists has taken the character of public preparation for the murder of men who had sincerely served the cause of liberating Russia. I venture to ask you to make your voice once more heard to the soviet government in order to make it understand the impossibility of such a crime. Perhaps the authority of your word will save the lives of these Socialists."

Seventy-eight years ago Anatole France was born at No. 9 Qual Voltaire, and for five of these nearly eight decades he has in one way or another been carrying on the work of Voltaire. His entry into the Index Expurgatorius will come as no surprise to those who have followed that work. Not in our time has ecclesiasticism had a critic admitted his confession was a lie. Other factors which may tend to support the original theory that Wemett committed auicide created a doubt as to Deyo's guilt in the minds of Assistiveys John Sbarbaro of They announced going before Judge acting chief justice.

BY THE SPIRIT OF SPORT

Latest and Greatest Sporting Sensation!

Don't confound these Greyhound racers, the speediest of all animal racers, with man-built coasters because the park has many coasters extensively advertised. Greyhound racing is a finished sport with every race a real contest—at night more spectacular, more exciting than ever was the greatest Derby ran. Greyhound racing, once the sport of kings, is now being enjoyed by all Chicago, and the dogs relish the sport as keenly as do the spectators—the bait pursued by the dogs—a mechanical rabbit—is a masterpiece of deception and skillful manipulation.

WABASH RAILWAY COMPANY

St. Louis, Mo., July 5th, 1922.

To Employes of the Wabash Railway Company:

A number of our men employed in our shops, roundhouses, etc., having one out on strike July first, this is to notify such employes who are now out on strike that any of them who report for work on or before the morning of July 10th, 1922, will retain their former rank and seniority. After that date they will be considered out of service, with no seniority rights or privileges and seniority of men who are employed in their places will date from the time, their applications are accepted.

Attention is called to the fact that this Company has in all instances carried out the decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board in connection with increases in wages and has also during the past year furnished continuous employment to its shopmen, when work was scarce and a number of shops were shut down.

This Company will pay the wages and apply the working conditions effective July first, 1922.

I trust that those employes who left the service on July first will seriously consider this proposition and take advantage of this last opportunity to retain their old positions, seniority and other privileges.

Ted Blankenship's maiden start in the big show today wasn't much of a success. The 19 year old lad went strong for three innings, but then tumbled into a peck of trouble in the fourth, five Mackmen scoring in a bunch and deciding the old pastime, Gleason's third placers getting the skinny end of a 6 to 3 count.

Blankenship's rout was brought about in a somewhat flukey manner. Five hits were produced in the fourth bag. On top of the taps that were lucky for the locals came a hit batter and two healthy wallops. It was the latter that prompted Gleason to remove the youngster and start the next round with Harry Courtney, who hadn't been in a game since June 9.

Courtney gave a spiendid exhibition of rescuing, only two hits being made against him in four innings. cow's milk is scarce, but many of the best milch goat breeders do not wean the kids until they are about five months old.

Milch goats relish both clover and alfalfa hay. These two legume hays are easily obtained and make ideal feed for goats. The goats will need grain along with the clover or alfalfa hay. It is much more sanitary and economical to feed the hay and grain separately. Tight boxes should be used to put the grain in, and it is a great saving to feed the hay in racks. Goats, especially the kids, will climb into the feed boxes or troughs and racks and waste the feed unless arrangements are made to keep them

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

One day when my friend called on me, my little sister Elinor, after she had gazed thoughtfully at his face, said: "May I climb upon your knee, Mr. Browne?" When my friend took her on his knee she said:

His Fevered Brow.

My wife had invited some out of town friends to dinner at the country club. I played golf all morning, and when I came in off the greens my wife informed me that I would have to change my clothes in a great hurry. So I rushed to the lockers, hurried through my shower, fairly threw on my clean clothes, and a few minutes later entered the dining room. I started to mop my perspiring brow, when I was halted by a frozen stare from friend wife, followed by shrieks of mirth from the rest of the party.

Changing my clothes in such haste, I had accidentally grabbed up my other

Suppose a young man were instructed to meet a girl upon whom he had never previously laid eyes. Suppose the only clew furnished him as to her appearance was that she would wear a crepe cape and a flower trimmed hat. Can't you just imagine the comedy of errors that would sneute. Can't you just imagine the comedy of errors that would sneute. The hundreds of strange ladies whom he would be obliged to accost before he finally located the right girl?

Our cape-acity includes many model with the spirals of tiny folds of self material affixed to each one of the motifs following the shoulder line.

These are by no means a new thought but they have maintained their pressifier among various mere nevel forms. Here they are diversified by panels of self-material affixed to each one of the motifs following the shoulder line.

These panels may be unlined or they may show the same contrasting crepe or silk lining as the cape itself. As to the spirals themselves, these are found plentifully on the frecks, as well as the wraps of the season. For example, one crepe frock has its skirt made up of rows of these motifs, diminishing in size from the huge ones of the highling is size from the huge ones of the highling is size from the huge ones of the highling in size from the huge ones of the highling in size from the huge ones of the highling in size from the huge ones of the highling in size from the huge ones at the high line.

The Spirit of Old College Days!

It's a wonderful thing for women and men to "carry age" gracefully; to retain mental keenness through physical fitness! Compare such women and men with puny, faded examples of humanity! Did you ever consider that these rugged folks came by their health largely through childhood food—food that made red blood and bone and muscle! Health was built into their systems!

Don't let your children grow up puny, undersized weaklings through eating denatured, bleached-out foods! Protect these little folks with Kellogg's whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, delicious whole-wheat flavor for the first time!

KRUMBLES will build strong bodies; KRUMBLES will make red blood and bone and muscle and rugged constitutions! Because KRUMBLES, with every atom of whole wheat, contain every food element that the human body needs!

KRUMBLES renew the strength of men and women who do the world's work! KRUMBLES provide food that sustains the aged as nothing else can! 'All grocers sell KRUMBLES.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

It is a matter of common knowledge that a large number of railroad employes, designated generally as members of the Shop Crafts, withdrew from the service of their employing companies at 10 o'clock A. M., July 1, 1922. This strike or stoppage of work on the part of certain classes of railroad employes on the same date and at the same hour on practically all of the railroads in the United States is understood to be in harmony with a prearranged plan authorized by the chosen representatives of the men involved.

It has been stated in the columns of the daily press that this procedure on the part of the men is in protest against action taken by certain railroad companies with reference to piece work practice, to the leasing of railroad shops and facilities to outside contractors, and also against Order No. 1036 of the United States Railroad Labor Board, effective July 1, 1922, authorizing certain reductions in wages.

A large number of Baltimore and Ohio employes, members of the Shop Crafts, joined in this concerted movement, although the Baltimore and Ohio Company, so far, has not sought to re-establish piece work, nor has it leased any of its shops or facilities to outside contractors, No controversy concerning the two specific matters just mentioned exists between this Company and any class of its employes,

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, however, is subject to the Transportation Act of 1920, and in accordance with the provisions of that Act it did announce its intention to put into effect on July 1st the new basis of wages fixed by the Labor Board, and found by that Board to be just and reasonable when tested by the requirements of the Transportation Act.

While more than half of the employes affected by Order No. 1036 withdrew from the Baltimore and Ohio service, a very substantial number of the same classes of employes remained at work and have expressed their intention to continue in the service of the Company at the new wages lawfully prescribed and now in effect,

The duty is imposed by law upon the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company as a common carrier to provide adequate transportation for all who may desire to make use of its facilities, and it is also the duty of the officers of the Company to make every possible and practicable effort to operate such trains as may be necessary to serve public needs.

The efforts of the Company to fulfill its obligations to the public have necessarily been hampered by the strike now in effect.

RESORTS AND HOTELS

The Management of the Baltimore and Ohio Company has so far refrained from hiring new men in large numbers, as it might easily have done, for the purpose of filling the places made vacant by the men now on strike, hoping that after giving the matter further consideration, many of the men who took part in the strike might conclude to return to the service. A considerable number have already returned. It is felt, however, by the Management of the Company that it must now proceed vigorously to resume normal operations, and to the extent that the men now out of service fail to return, it is the intention of the Company to employ new men as fast as suitable and competent men can be obtained. The Company would much prefer to have its old employes return to the service, but it cannot evade its responsibility to the public under the law. It must, under the law, make every reasonable and practicable effort to maintain its property and operate its trains, and this duty it will endeavor to perform.

The Baltimore and Ohio Management has been ex-tremely anxious to maintain pleasant relations with all classes of its employes, and it deeply regrets the situation which has arisen.

It is ready and willing to pay the wages fixed by the Labor Board as just and reasonable. It is not authorized to pay more, it does not expect or desire to pay less.

"Resolved, That if it be assumed that the employes who leave the service of the carrier because of their dissatis-

BY BARRETT WILLOUGHBY

reland's interest is aroused by Rilbuck's tales of a lost island on which Indian rumor that gold has been found. This mysterious island is supposed to be Hon Hayn, a mishabited strip of land ninety miles off the coast of Estigean. At the mention Boreland's adventurous blood is profoundly attreed and he decides to visit Kon Klayu, is more than a barren island completely surrounded by dangerous reads and aboats massed by ships as a death trap. He is tired of the native woman of his household, lim's beauty and courage have fired his imagination. He destres to get rid of her ab tellen upsets all his carefully laid plans by refusing 40 remain behind at Kalend with Jean and her young son, goes with her husbend to Hon Hayn, get Harlan, the trading company's bookkeeper at Hatleean, captivated by the charms my Jean, makes the trip with the expedition to the island. He intends to return be Hopsah to Katteean after the Boreland party has blen landed, but through an at the boat roes back without him. Hilback his presence worries Ellen.

INSTALLMENT XXX.
THE PERIL OF THE SURF.

With a call for help Harian started toward them, he also racing as the makers ran out, and climbing the cliff out of their reach as they broke. He mitted to Jean to attract her attention. If he could only sign to her to ascend the bluff and hold fast till he came! Value he tried to make his voice heard above the deafening roar. She neither heard nor saw him. Desperately he plunged on, not taking time now to climb up for his own safety, but ploughing through the ourushing waves. Once a crashing comber caught and threw him fat on the shifting gravel. Before he could right himself it had sucked him almost into the may of the next down curling sea. Fortunately it was a mail one. He was able to regain his feet and stagger to a hand hold.

Then at the same instant that Jean's eye caught it he became aware of the luge, unbroken billow advancing toward the struggling figures of the girl of high saw her ineffectual efforts to follow, then the dancing crest broke and lain became but a formless dark object tossed like a drift log on the foaming salers that spouted against the foot of the bluff. With a despairing cry, Har are plunged forward, and as the great wave, the first of three, receded, he makes the same in the majority.

Limp and unconscious, Jean hung from the court of the court of the business to the majority.

But for this timely precaution the girl must have made and the child with her. An extra long recession the water gave him time to lift the inert body and throw it across his shoul, and thus, while the second giant roller broke at his back, he gripped with tern hands into the sharp shale and held on. As it ebbed he hoisted her the ledge above him.

From the temporary safety of this narrow shelf he considered their chances. It would be impossible to scale the face of the bluff above him, yet the tide would not be full for an hour. Owing to the enormous sea, they would all three be swept into the ocean if they remained where they were. There was but one thing he could do. He laid a hand on Loll's quaking shoulder.

"Pal," he said quietly, "will you be afraid to stay here while I carry Jean the county of the morning. Mr. Gibbons' appointment runs until December.

Judicial restraint on the activities of the police in frequently raiding the Red Lantern inn, 431 Rush street, is asked in a petition for a writ of injunction filed in the Circuit court yesterday by Bert Kelly, proprietor.

More than twenty-five recent raids are detailed in the petition, which declares that Kelly's patronage, which produces an income of $2,000 monthly, is rapidly being driven away.

Kelly denies he has permitted immoral dancing or amusement, and asserts he has discouraged unescorted women from visiting the place.
